

The Difference Between the Two

He took her in his arms
He held her tight
And told her she felt so fine
It might have been the start of a true romance
Except that she was mine
She needed to be told
She never would grow old
And he'd love her like I never could
As soon as she believed he always would
He turned his back on her for good

Some kisses feed a hunger
Some kisses say, I love you
No lips that long for love can tell
The difference between the two

The difference between the two is only
The distance between heaven and hell
But when your eyes go blind with love
There's no way you can tell the difference

The leaves flew from the trees
On autumn breezes
The winter wind cleared the air
No sooner than it seemed too much to bear
I saw her standing there
Her heart was in her hand
Suitcase at her feet
Her smile opened up the door
Even though I tried to turn away
I took her in my arms once more

Some kisses feed a hunger
Some kisses say, I love you
No lips that long for love can tell
The difference between the two
No lips that long for love can tell
The difference between the two
